Belgrade is a metropolis – a busy working city, which with all its history is still developing, modernizing, digitalizing, spreading and urbanizing. Yet, there is a part of Belgrade life which just cannot be changed, a part that differs Belgrade from other cities – that part is life on water.

Rivers Sava and Danube hold the secrets of an entirely different lifestyle, led by a select few in the heart of the city. They are fishermen, who have for centuries been living and hunting in the same way – treasure of the two rivers, a heartbeat of the city. It is not just the fishing that separates these people from the rest, it is a complete lifestyle with total unselfish love for water. They live of water and on water; they don't look out for the forecast; they look out for water level; their kids learn to swim first, walk later; their stories cannot be seen on social networks; the word net only has one meaning in their dictionary – a fishing net, and it just so happens that they caught a big one a few days ago.

Be a part of this authentic Belgrade story. Meet some interesting people and discover an adventurer in yourself in the heart of the big white city. Go fishing with us, enjoy the night with candles under the Belgrade bridges, learn to catch your dinner, hear the unique stories of Belgrade fishermen and experience Belgrade in an entirely different way.
